

Research Forum FAQs

1. How many authors are allowed on a submission?
You can have up to 10 authors listed for an abstract. However, the first author listed is the main author to present and will receive all notifications from the abstract submission portal.
2. Can I change first author/presenter?
Yes, you can edit the first author/presenter in the submission portal until the submission site closes. After submission closes, the author listed during submission will be listed as presenter/first author.
3. Are the abstract presentation sessions in the ACEP Scientific Assembly app? Yes, however, if presenters or titles are changed after submission site closes, it may not be correct in the app or on-site brochure. We do our best to make changes, but due to publication deadlines are not always able to accommodate.
4. Does ACEP accept case series or encores? Yes, ACEP accepts case series and encores.
 - Case series are allowed but should demonstrate novel research for the chance of acceptance.
 - Case reports or subject reviews (such as review articles or presentations) are not allowed.
 - ACEP will accept research that has been presented at other conferences, but not in print. Encore presentations are encouraged to have additional data or analysis.
 - Systematic reviews are accepted.
5. How are presenters recognized onsite? Presenters can pick up presenter ribbons at the booth at registration onsite.
6. What if I have conflict of interest to disclose? In the author section in the submission site, you will be asked if there's any conflict of interest. If there's more than one author, each will need to complete disclosures.
7. Is there a character limit? Abstracts are limited to 3000 characters not including spaces. Accepted abstracts will be published as received. No copy editing will be performed.
8. Are figures accepted? A small table or figure will be accepted. Figures must be black and white with at least 300 dpi and counts as the 3000 character limit.