ACEP supports medical neutrality, under the principles of the Geneva Convention, for the sick and wounded in all countries and all health care workers, when these workers coordinate health care activities through established channels via non-governmental organizations, government organizations, or other official response agencies.