Urologic & Ob/Gyn Disorders

- Emergent Vaginal Delivery Lab
  10/27/2019 8:00 AM - 10:00 AM
  SU-2
  Faculty: Joelle Borhart, MD, FACEP (Moderator)
  No matter how "naturally" a pregnant woman delivers her child, if it's in your ED, it becomes an emergency delivery. During this workshop, the speaker will discuss the management of the complications associated with an emergency delivery, identifying necessary equipment, & identifying patients who cannot be transferred to labor & delivery. Are you & your facility prepared for this event? (This workshop is limited to 30 participants).

- Emergent Vaginal Delivery Lab
  10/27/2019 12:30 PM - 2:30 PM
  SU-32
  Faculty: Joelle Borhart, MD, FACEP (Moderator)
  No matter how naturally a pregnant woman delivers her child, if it's in your ED, it becomes an emergency delivery. During this workshop, the speaker will discuss the management of the complications associated with an emergency delivery, identifying necessary equipment, & identifying patients who cannot be transferred to labor & delivery. Are you & your facility prepared for this event? (This workshop is limited to 30 participants).

- Late Pregnancy & Postpartum Emergencies
  10/27/2019 1:30 PM - 2:20 PM
  SU-47
  Faculty: Kathleen Kerrigan, MD, FACEP
  Late pregnancy & postpartum complications can be an infrequent, stressful, & challenging for the emergency physician. The speaker will highlight the presenting symptoms recognition & treatment of pregnancy-induced hypertension, preeclampsia & eclampsia. The speaker will discuss post-partum complications including: postpartum hemorrhage & postpartum infections.

- A Different Kind of TWOfer: Trauma in Pregnancy
  10/27/2019 1:30 PM - 1:55 PM
  SU-41
  Faculty: Camiron L. Pfennig, MD, FACEP
  This case-based presentation will focus on physiological changes & important management decisions in the obstetrical trauma patient.
Courses by Track

- Don’t Ovary Act: Vaginal Bleeding in the Non-Pregnant Patient
  10/27/2019 2:00 PM - 2:25 PM
  SU-52
  Faculty: Luz M. Silverio, MD

  Vaginal bleeding in the nonpregnant patient is a common complaint & can range from the irritating to the life-threatening. What is the bare minimum acceptable workup in the emergency department for the stable (and unstable) patient & what new medications/techniques can help save lives? Using a case-based format, the speaker will review core principles & evidence-based management for these frustrating chief complaints.

- Emergent Vaginal Delivery Lab
  10/27/2019 3:30 PM - 5:30 PM
  SU-69
  Faculty: Joelle Borhart, MD, FACEP (Moderator)

  No matter how naturally a pregnant woman delivers her child, if it's in your ED, it becomes an emergency delivery. During this workshop, the speaker will discuss the management of the complications associated with an emergency delivery, identifying necessary equipment, & identifying patients who cannot be transferred to labor & delivery. Are you & your facility prepared for this event? (This workshop is limited to 30 participants).

- Problems in the Pregnant Patient: FAST FACTS
  10/28/2019 9:00 AM - 9:50 AM
  MO-120
  Faculty: Joelle Borhart, MD, FACEP; Kathleen Kerrigan, MD, FACEP; Camiron L. Pfennig, MD, FACEP

  This fast facts course will cover 6 mini lectures in an hour. Topics presented will include neurological emergencies in the pregnant patient, PE in the pregnant patient, the peri-mortem C-section, postpartum cardiomyopathy, ruling out appendicitis in pregnancy, UTIs in the pregnant patient.

- Emergency Delivery: Are You Prepared?
  10/28/2019 2:00 PM - 2:25 PM
  MO-172
  Faculty: Kathleen Kerrigan, MD, FACEP

  No matter how naturally a pregnant woman delivers her child, if it's in your ED, it becomes an emergency delivery. During this course, the speaker will discuss the management of the complications associated with an emergency delivery, identifying necessary equipment, sharing videos of maneuvers for problem deliveries, & identifying patients who cannot be transferred to labor & delivery. Are you & your facility prepared for this event?
- Revisiting Old Friends: Current Recommendations for STI Treatment
  10/29/2019 8:00 AM - 8:25 AM
  TU-214
  Faculty: Fredrick M. Abrahamian, DO, FACEP, FIDSA
  Can we once again treat suspected gonorrhea with oral medication? Come find out! Treatment recommendations continue to arise due to changing antimicrobial resistance patterns. The speaker will address the 2015 CDC & 2016 WHO recommendations for the treatment of common STIs.

- Bent, Broken, & Backed Up – Male GU Emergencies: FAST FACTS
  10/29/2019 8:00 AM - 8:50 AM
  TU-217
  Faculty: Adrian D. Daul, MD; Herbert E. Hern, MD, FACEP; Teresa S. Wu, MD, FACEP
  This fast facts course will cover 6 mini lectures in an hour. Topics presented will include urinary retention, phimosis & paraphimotic, priapism, Fournier’s gangrene, penile trauma, the acute scrotum.

- Emergency Care for Transgender Patients
  10/29/2019 3:30 PM - 3:55 PM
  TU-296
  Faculty: Adrian D. Daul, MD
  Provision of sensitive & effective care for transgender patients is a basic cultural competency for emergency physicians. Yet, emergency physicians receive little formal training on care of this population which contributes to healthcare disparities. This presentation aims to enhance emergency care for transgender patients by addressing common gaps in knowledge & skills.

- At Risk & Vulnerable: ED Perspectives in Sexual Assault, IPV & Human Trafficking
  10/30/2019 8:00 AM - 8:25 AM
  WE-348
  Faculty: Hillary Larkin PA-C
  Human trafficking, sexual assault & intimate partner violence are more prevalent than most think. Many ask "What can I do as an ED physician?" The speaker will focus on increasing awareness, best practices for screening, & what an emergency physician needs to know & do when faced with these potential sensitive situations.