

Pediatric Neurologic Examination Quiz

12/02

Ilene A. Claudius, MD

Children's Hospital Los Angeles, CA

Assistant Professor, USC Keck School of Medicine

1. When is an upgoing plantar reflex normal?
 - a. Never
 - b. Until 1 month
 - c. Until 6 mo
 - d. Until 12 months
 - e. Until adolescence
2. When can children do tandem gait on a neurologic exam?
 - a. age 6 yrs
 - b. age 5 yrs
 - c. age 4 yrs
 - d. age 3 yrs
 - e. age 2 yrs
3. What are some early signs of hypertonicity in a child who is fighting you?
4. The parents are concerned an infant is deaf, but he is cooing normally- is that possible?
Yes or No
5. The parents are concerned a toddler is head banging- is he autistic?
6. How can you do a sensory exam in the injured extremity of a child?
7. When can a child with an eye injury read an eye chart?
 - a. Always
 - b. 2 yrs
 - c. 4 yrs
 - d. 6 yrs
 - e. 8 yrs
8. Does a lack of blinking in response to threat indicate blindness in a neonate? Yes or No