Dr. Hirshon presented Dr. Vasquez with a certificate of appreciation for his service as chair for the section for the last two years.

3. Dr. Vasquez then introduced Dr. Granovsky who provided an overview of the changing financial landscape for medical care. His presentation was titled: "2016 MACRA: MIPS and APMs- Fall Reimbursement Update."

Following Dr. Granosky's presentation three panelist discussed: "The Changing Business of EM." Panelists were:

- Jon Mark Hirshon, MD, MPH, PhD, FACEP
- John Proctor, MD, MBA, FACEP
- Arjun Venkatesh, MD, MBA, MHS

Each panelist shared information about their practice and the changes that they are seeing. All agreed that the business model is changing practice and it is imperative for practice to evolve and that there are both threats and opportunities. There was discussion about the need to focus on post care and networking with nursing homes that utilize APRNs and community resources for continuing patient care. Some noted that hospitals are more willing to invest in the ED, improve operational efficiencies, increased use of rapid assessment areas and see more individual accountability. Others noted that there is more alignment of incentives and regulations, more information is available to consumers including rating of systems of care, patients admitted to the hospital are often sicker. There was agreement that there are now more venues to practice emergency medicine and the provider can choose what part of that continuum they wish to practice in. It was noted that there is a greater need to integrate with community resources as housing instability and social issues impact health care resources.

Following an overview by each panelist open discussion with attendees on the issues was held.

4. With no further business at this time, Dr. Vasquez thanked the panelists and the attendees and the meeting was adjourned.
