

Anwar Dayan Osborne, MD

Dr. Osborne is an Assistant Professor of both Internal Medicine and Emergency Medicine at Emory University. He is a national expert in Observation Medicine and has published multiple manuscripts on administration of these units as well as low-risk chest pain. He is the current Chair of the ACEP Observation Section. He is also the administrator of www.obsprotocols.org and is the co-host of an observation medicine podcast.