

Venkatesh R Bellamkonda, MD

Assistant Professor in Emergency Medicine
Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minnesota

Dr. Venkatesh Bellamkonda is an emergency physician with a career interest in emergency ultrasound and healthcare quality. He completed his residency in emergency medicine at Mayo Clinic in 2010, and a fellowship in emergency and critical care ultrasound at George Washington University in 2011. He has served as director of the emergency ultrasound section for Mayo Clinic's Department of Emergency Medicine during which time he has spoken nationally and internationally as well as published in the subspecialty of emergency ultrasound. He is a Mayo Clinic Gold Quality Fellow and has served as the director of curriculum for the Mayo Clinic Quality Academy which serves to educate the Mayo Clinic Enterprise in healthcare quality including health equity, value creation, health outcomes, LEAN, six sigma, and other topics.