

Your Residency Program pays for your ACEP, EMRA, and Chapter dues. Being part of three organizations allows you to access great member benefits, take advantage of different leadership opportunities, discover new ways to be an advocate for the specialty, and to make professional connections that will last throughout your career. Below are some FAQs on how to access your benefits, and where to find more information about leadership and advocacy opportunities.

It is highly recommended you verify that your address, email, and phone number are correct, to ensure you maintain access to all of your benefits once you graduate.

Be sure to check out the resident page for other great resources at <https://www.acep.org/acep-membership/resident-membership>.
