Resident FAQs for ACEP EMRA Membership

Your Residency Program pays for your ACEP, EMRA, and Chapter dues. Being part of three organizations allows you to access great member benefits, take advantage of different leadership opportunities, discover new ways to be an advocate for the specialty, and to make professional connections that will last throughout your career. Below are some FAQs on how to access your benefits, and where to find more information about leadership and advocacy opportunities.

We recommend that you verify that your address, email, and phone number are correct, to ensure you maintain access to all of your benefits once you graduate.

Be sure to check out the resident membership page for other great resources.

FAQs

How do I access my _free_ EM:RAP account provided by EMRA?

- You will first need to log into your EMRA account.
- Once logged in, you will click on "Benefits," in the top nav bar.
- Scroll down to "EM:RAP."
- Click on "Learn More"
- Click on "Access EM:RAP"
- Just follow the instructions.
- If you try to log in directly from emrap.org, it will tell you your membership has expired.

How do I access my free membership to the Early Career Physicians Section (ECPS) and add the additional free Section of my choice provided by ACEP?

- Go to our Sections of Membership page and login.
- Once logged in, just click on "Join A Section" to choose another Section. The free Young Physicians Section has already been added to your account.
- Each additional Section after your two free ones, are just $20 each.

How do I access the free EM Practice Essential Modules provided by EMRA and ACEP?

- Go to the Practice Essentials of EM page
- Log into your ACEP account at the top right of the page
- Click "Access the Course"
- Click "Launch Course"

How do I find out what benefits ACEP offers?

- Go to the resident membership page

How do I learn more about leadership opportunities with ACEP?

- Go to the ACEP Leadership page

How do I learn more about leadership opportunities and events with my state Chapter?

- Go to the Chapter Directory page
- Click on your state Chapter